CIRCULAR NO. 6.
LIST OF ORIGINATORS OF
FRUITS AND VEGETABLES.
MARCH 6, 1889.

U. S. Department of Agriculture,
Office of Experiment Stations.
March 8, 1889.List of Originators of Fruits, Vegetables, Etc.
In the United States,
With Addresses and Names of Specialties.

At the request of the Committee on Cooperative Work in Horticulture, appointed by the Association of American Agricultural Colleges and Experiment Stations at its late meeting at Konopville, a limited edition of the following list is published for the exclusive use of the Stations.

Attention is especially called to the request of the Committee for further information concerning the special work in horticulture to be undertaken at the several Stations.

The committee to further the work of co-operation in horticulture, appointed by the Association of American Agricultural Colleges and Experiment Stations at its recent meeting at Konopville, have found it impossible to collect and issue a complete list of originators in the short time which has elapsed since the work was undertaken. But deeming it advisable to issue at once as full a list as could be at present collated so that it might be of some service to the workers in horticulture the coming season, we have concluded to publish the following imperfect list, with the intention of revising and extending it in the near future.

Very few of the Stations were prepared to furnish the committee any information of value regarding this matter. And much of the information furnished was so incomplete that the committee has been unable to classify or arrange the list other than to put it in alphabetical order.

order, and indicate what they have been known to send out. For very obvious reasons a strict classification is impossible.

The list contains many names of parties who are generally known only as dealers in horticultural products, but who have at different times furnished new varieties to some of the stations. Many of the originators named in this list may not be restricted to the varieties of products here attributed to them. This defect will be corrected when we obtain more reliable information. It is also our opinion that there are names in the list which ought not to be there, but the committee had no time to make further inquiries regarding doubtful cases. The list must be issued now or be delayed so long as to destroy its usefulness for the coming season.

We urgently request all parties interested to furnish such additional information as will make it possible for us to issue a more complete and reliable list during the coming summer.

This list should be considered confidential, inasmuch as it contains the names of some parties who are adverse to having their business advertised.

An official list of all the stations with the name of the officer in charge of the horticultural work in each, is being prepared and will be issued soon. In this list we desire to designate the special lines of horticultural work which each station intends to undertake in the immediate future and would, therefore, request the horticulturists of the several stations to write at once ^{to} the Office of Experiment Stations, and give the requisite information.
